12. Details of research or major projects undertaken with dates:

i. Currently, the UEW Innovation hub has secured a training contract under the National Entrepreneurship and Innovation program. Our tasks include providing training for beneficiaries, preparing and submitting periodic reports on all training conducted, providing mentoring and coaching sessions to beneficiaries, monitoring the progress of assigned entrepreneurs during and after training, delivering business advisory services to beneficiaries, providing post-training incubation support for: ideation-stage entrepreneurs to refine and validate business concepts, and growth-stage businesses through acceleration programmes. The project shall run for 6 months, and I am the coordinator. (October, 2025 to March, 2026)

ii. The Graduate Employment & Entrepreneurship Support - THINKGEES project. An initiative that targets students and recent graduates from THINK Network member institutions, including University of Education, Winneba, to enhance their employability and entrepreneurial capacity through a comprehensive career readiness and entrepreneurship training programme. The project was funded by the University of Ghana Business School Innovation and Incubation Hub (UGBS-IIH), in partnership with AfriVenture Lab and the British Council (I was the project lead for the University of Education, Winneba), October 2025.

iii. Enterprise Support and Incubation Training Program Organized by UEW Innovation Hub to train 30 students in entrepreneurship, innovation, prototyping, basic accounting principles, networking, among others (I was the project lead). The training program was sponsored by the British Council with collaboration of the Tertiary Hubs for Innovation and Knowledge (THINK) network from January to March, 2025.

iv. Business Pitch Challenge Organised by the University of Education Innovation Hub. The brain behind the challenge is to identify students with creative ideas and assist them nurture their ideas. The first, second and third runners up will undergo a three-months training and mentorship in their areas of interest at the UEW Innovation Hub. Collaborations and networking opportunities will be availed to them. The program is sponsored by the National Pensions Regulatory Authority (NPRA) and I am the project lead. The winners have been declared and training will commence soon.

External Examiner, MPhil thesis examination, University of Cape Coast (Nov. 2022)

Curriculum Development:

I was appointed the head of the department of Marketing, Procurement & Supply Chain Management in 2018 when there were only two programmes in the department – BBA Marketing, and BBA Procurement and Supply Chain Management. Under my leadership and guidance, the department of Procurement and Supply Chain Management currently offers MBA and MPhil in Procurement and Supply Chain Management. The Procurement and Supply Chain Management department have completed a draft of MBA and MPhil programmes in Logistics and Supply Chain Management and have submitted both documents to me for proof-reading, editing, and fine-tuning. Regarding Marketing, after I occasioned a survey to be conducted on the possibility of adding value to the BBA Marketing Programme, the result revealed the need to strengthen the programme with entrepreneurship components. This was done and duly approved. Currently the department has developed and is offering BBA in Marketing and Entrepreneurship, MBA in Marketing, MPhil in Entrepreneurship and Innovation Management. Other programmes that have been developed and awaiting GTEC's approval includes, MA in Political Marketing and Strategy, MSc in Entrepreneurial Management and Strategy, and Diploma in Venture Creation. I am also a member of the committee tasked to develop PhD and Doctor of Business Administration programmes for the School of Business. The committee has since developed and submitted these programmes to the dean of the faculty.

Student Development:

With over twenty years of teaching at the tertiary level at various institutions such as Koforidua Technical University, Ghana Institute of Public Administration (GIMPA), Ghana Technology University College, Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology, University of Education, Winneba, and as a Sessional tutor at Griffith University in Australia, I have and continue to provide academic counseling to many students in all the institutions I have worked with. I have assisted countless students in various spheres of development including, academic writing, research and publications, guidance on thesis writing among others. I have assisted in the development of students from the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. For instance, at the postgraduate level, I have taught and examined Ph. D, MPhil, MBA and MSc theses.

The Department of Marketing and Entrepreneurship under my headship has established a Business Innovation Hub. With collaborations from the British Council, the National Pension Regulatory authority, the Ghana Enterprise Agency, the Tertiary Hubs for Innovation and Knowledge (THINK) Network students have benefited from training programs in entrepreneurship and innovation.

Mentorship

I have mentored students, faculty members, and administrators within and outside the School of Business, in teaching and learning, research and publication, and administration.
